

The Chimes

Greetings brothers and sisters in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

I am so excited about ministry and the work we are doing as a church. This week I start an online course through Northeastern Seminary of Roberts Wesleyan University. This is a Free Methodist Seminary based in Rochester, NY. The course is titled "Calling and Vocation" and is the introductory course for their Doctorate of Ministry program. I have been allowed to take this course as a visiting student not part of the DMin program. This course will address several topics: spiritual, vocational, and pastoral formation; personal preferences and strengths for ministry; conflict management style; social support in ministry. This is a lot to cover in just five months.

I am also excited about the work we are doing in our combined ministry study task force. We have meet every other month to look at all aspects of the ministries of Peace and Trinity churches. We are now looking at the various demographics of our community and how we can address the needs of these various segments of people. Continue to pray for this task force and that God will guide and direct us in our work, and that our savior will make known to us His vision for our churches.

Leadership is a key component of our ministry study. We look at who is involved in leadership of the church, the organizational structure of the church, leadership styles, and ultimately what type of leadership will be required for moving forward into a positive, fruitful, vital ministry future. As part of my own training for my involvement in this task force, I attended an online seminar, a webinar as they call it, on organizational leadership. It was given by a professor at Bethel Seminary in St. Paul MN by the name of Andrew Rowell. HE was a doctoral student at Duke at the time I was there but I did not know him. According to Dr. Rowell, good quality transformational leadership includes six attributes:

- 1) Focused. Leadership must be focused on fulfilling the church's mission. He says that growing churches have a clear identity and purpose. Also, the more time that leadership spends in recruitment and evangelism the more the church will grow.
- 2) Collaborative. Strong and vital leadership must collaborate with many constituencies and community groups. The Church cannot be a group of silos of special interests pushing their agendas, and the Church cannot be an isolated silo in the community. We must collaborate.
- 3) Stable. This is where we as United Methodists have an advantage, because strong organizations need structure. However, when maintaining the organizational structure takes precedence over fulfilling the mission, then we will have an empty sanctuary.
- 4) Wise. Churches need smart leadership. According to Rev. Eugene Petersen, author of The Message modern paraphrase of the Bible, the pastor must focus on three things; scripture, prayer, and spiritual direction. Strong organizational leadership that is faithful to the gospel of Jesus requires that a pastor have these three areas as his top priority. He can then guide the leadership in the organization to take on more responsibility and authority. But without the pastor's guidance, the leadership of the church can become closed minded and inward focused, becoming the opposite of wise.

5) Innovative. There are two misconceptions about church innovation, which is just a fancy way of saying “how can we do things differently for a better outcome?” The first is that you must see the future, and the second, that you must be artistic. We obviously cannot predict the future and many of us are not artistic. I do not picture the apostle Peter, the big and burly fisherman, as being very artistic either, and yet, he brought many people to Christ through his preaching and ministry. Innovation is related to experimentation; put something out there; build, measure, and learn. That is how churches need to innovate.

6) Sober. Leadership needs to unearth problems early and ensure organizational focus on the mission. This requires discipline, and leadership must prepare and plan. We cannot just go through the motions. We can't just do what we've always done and expect different results. Dr. Rowell says that bad meetings are the birthplace of unhealthy organizations. If meetings are not focused and purposeful, dysfunction will occur and the health of the organization deteriorates. We must remember that the mission of the church must be focused on outsiders, and that its not about having things our way. That's what Paul was trying to address in chapter 11 of his first letter to the Corinthian church. They were a dysfunctional church because they were focused on themselves and not others. Therefore, the worship and congregational life became disorienting and dysfunctional. Paul's prescriptions about head coverings and the Lord's supper were about bringing order and focused purpose back to the life of the church.

Until next time, have a blessed Easter season and see you in worship.

Sunday School News!

We are learning about the apostle PAUL – his conversion, the escape from Damascus in a basket, his important encounter with Lydia, the merchant of purple cloth, and imprisonment with Silas. Paul teaches us about the hope and love Jesus brings to our lives and the lives of those we met.

Our spring mission focus is a community garden and food pantry, in the state of Alaska.

The good costs in Alaska are very high causing many families to do without good nutritious food. The community garden is an economical way for people to get more vegetables into their diet. We are also learning many facts and customs about Alaska and its people.

Also mark your calendar, as the last Sunday for Sunday School is May 20th !

Summer Camp 2018 is open for registration!

The Wisconsin United Methodist Camping Website is up and ready for registrations for summer camps.

Camp books have arrived and are available on the back table in the narthex and in the Sunday School rooms. Hoping that all families will pick up a booklet and share with their children. There are family camps, Mother-daughter camps, grandparent–grandchild camps, and camps for adults with special needs. Our camp fund pays 2/3's of registration for youth and WI conference scholarships are available if needed.

Also, the Missions committee will be hosting an ice cream social on Wed. June 27th with the proceeds going to the camping fund.

Contact Rosie Steinmetz 608-647-4247 for assistance.

Mother's Day is a time to celebrate our mothers and how important they are in our lives. Breakfast in bed, making dinner for mom, and a spa day are all great gifts for a mother. This year, make Mother's Day a unique and unforgettable celebration. Making a memory jar, taking your mother to afternoon tea, planting a tree, taking mom for a picnic, and volunteering at her favorite charity are unique ways to celebrate motherhood.

Memory Jar

Paint and decorate a mason jar. Write favorite memories of your mom on slips of paper. Encourage the other members of your family to write their memories down as well. Fill the mason jar with the paper slips. On Mother's Day, sit with your mom while she reads all of the memories you have written down.

Afternoon Tea

Book an afternoon tea at a local teahouse or restaurant. Invite the people who are most important to your mom. Use the time to talk about how much you appreciate your mom.

Planting a Tree

Pick your mom's favorite tree from your local garden center. Together with your mom, plant the tree in a visible place in your yard. Visit the tree each mother's day to remember the love and appreciation you have for your mother.

Picnic in the Park

Pack a picnic lunch of your mom's favorite things. Pick a quiet local park to have the picnic. Spend the time talking and laughing about the things going on in her life.

Local Charity

This year, schedule a time with your mother to volunteer at one of her favorite charities. Some ideas are a local nursing home, taking items to a women's shelter, or a soup kitchen. Let your mom know how much you appreciate her efforts with you and admire her giving spirit.

Missions Focus for April

APRIL MISSION FOCUS: UMCOR CLEANING KITS FOR ANNUAL CONFERENCE INGATHERING

The Missions Committee's April focus is the collection of items to complete two UMCOR cleaning kits, which will be sent to Annual Conference in June. The value of the items needed to complete each cleaning kit is approximately $65; our goal is to complete two kits. These supplies enable people to begin the overwhelming job of cleaning up after a flood or hurricane. Since the list of supplies is quite lengthy and detailed, it is not included in this article. You can find the complete detailed list displayed on the Missions bulletin board and on tables in the narthex. The last Sunday offering for missions will go to support the UMCOR cleaning kits.

In order to make the collection of supplies needed more efficient, there is a sign-up sheet located in the narthex. Please sign up for the item or items you will commit to purchase, then place those items in the "Cleaning Kits" tub. DEADLINE FOR DONATED ITEMS IS MAY 13th. This will give the committee time to complete the kits if additional items need to be purchased.

Although the detailed list is posted in the church, it can also be found on the UMCOR website: www.umcor.org/UMCOR/Relief-Supplies/Relief-Supply-Kits/Cleaning.

Cleaning Kits – these supplies enable people to begin the overwhelming job of cleaning up after a flood or hurricane.

April 2018 Committee Notes – By Jerry Bower

TRUSTEES: Shannon offered a prayer to open our meeting.
The Minutes of 5 February 2018 were unanimously approved.

Financial Reports:

- A review of our investments revealed that the balances of all accounts, at the end of March, were up about $15,000, compared to one year ago. However, we anticipate that there will be some bounce in the market, due to the “trade war” with China.

Parsonage Report:

- Nothing to report.

Church Property:

- Strang’s is still looking for a supplier who can provide all of the altar ceiling bulbs that we need.
- John has contacted Sheldon’s about scheduling our parking lot repairs just as soon as the work can begin. We noted that some additional sink holes have appeared. Our plan is to have the broken sidewalk concrete removed and replace it with blacktop.
- The lift load test, a required test, has been scheduled and will be done soon.
- We authorized John to proceed with getting our window wells covered with translucent corrugated material. We hope that this will eliminate water getting into the basement during a heavy rain.
- We discussed the need to acquire a safe that could be locked, for storage of valuable papers. John and Russ will audit the contents of the current safe, which cannot be locked, to determine what size is needed.
- Jeremiah Storer has been contacted to remove and repair the grease trap in the kitchen. He will try to get this done during April.

Other:

- We received a copy of a comprehensive Rental Agreement to review. We will decide how to proceed with updating our policy at our next meeting.

NEXT TRUSTEE MEETING: 7 MAY 2018, 6:00 PM., IN THE LIBRARY.

FINANCE COMMITTEE: Jerry opened the meeting with a prayer of thanks and for guidance.

We did not have any old business, so we went directly to reviewing the spreadsheets for January through March. All of Trinity’s obligations are up-to-date, but the checkbook balances at the end of February and March are alarming! At the end of February the balance was a negative $2,343.49 and at the end of March a negative $3,834.10!!!

We have these negative balances despite drawing $2,500 from the Capital Improvement Fund. It is obvious that we need, somehow, to boost our contributions to the General Fund. We noted that we have been very generous in supporting special projects, as suggested by the Missions Committee and this Finance Committee. We wondered if we are deducting our special contributions from our general fund support. This is difficult for me, Jerry, to write because, up to now, our general fund support, with infusions from the Capital Improvement Fund, $10,000 in 2017, has been adequate. It is obvious that we cannot “forever” draw on the Capital Improvement Fund to balance our checkbook. I ask you, please, to consider whether you can increase your contributions to the General Fund. If we all give a little more, I think we can overcome this deficit financing. In advance, I thank you for your prayerful consideration.

We noted that the counters are doing better in handling our new contribution envelopes. It has just taken some time to develop a new system for counting the offering. It would be very helpful if everyone would use an envelope in making their contributions.

NEXT FINANCE MEETING: 12 JUNE 2018, 6:00 PM., IN THE LIBRARY.

CHURCH COUNCIL: (I did not attend this meeting as I am recovering from the flu. What follows is what I gleaned from the draft Minutes.)

An Opening Prayer was offered by Russ.

The Council Minutes of 29 January 2018 were unanimously approved.

OLD BUSINESS:

Report on Meetings: The Joint Ministry Task Force met at Trinity on 8 April. The two congregations are in sync as to the issues we face and as to the target audience we should seek to attract. Repeatedly, the need to build a relationship with someone before you can invite them to join a church was stressed. Given the information we have received about the unchurched in our community, we may have to make some changes in “how we do ministry” to reach our target audience.

Walter Fenton Congregational Meeting about the Wesleyan Covenant Association: About 50 attended this March 15th meeting at Peace. Fenton reviewed the history of the looming split in the United Methodist Church. The issues over sexuality have been festering for over four decades and are apparently reaching a climax. The Council of Bishops is in the process of developing its report for the Special General Conference to be held in February 2019.

Joint Trinity/Peace Council Meeting was finally held on 5 March, after being postponed twice due to bad weather. The weather this evening held down attendance! Two major topics were discussed. Pastor Wiley explained his reaction to the Board of Ordained Ministry to delay his further advancement for a year. The group decided to work toward hosting a free, Saturday morning breakfast sometime during this year. It would be a way to introduce Trinity and Peace to the community.

NEW BUSINESS:

2019 Fundraiser? As you know we have cancelled the 2018 Candlelight Dinner due to lack of leadership. After a long discussion, the Council voted to work toward creating a fundraiser during 2019. Please watch for your opportunity to volunteer.

Mission Focus and TUMC General Fund. Discussion surrounded TUMC's missional and general fund giving, with emphasis to encourage giving to both, as they are equally important ministries. Pastor Wiley asked if giving less was due to the new envelope system and John Storer agreed that it might be. Pastor Wiley suggested putting envelopes in every bulletin, which would also give him an opportunity to talk about giving from the pulpit.

COMMITTEE REPORTS:

Barb Shannon announced that the last Sunday school classes will occur on 20 May.

Finance: No report, but see Finance Notes and quote, above.

Missions: Received thanks for American Bible Society for continued support. UMCOR cleaning kits are the focus for April. Golden Cross Sunday is 13 May, which supports, in part, Schmitt Woodland Hills. The Ice Cream Social is 27 June, to support the camping fund.

Trustees: John Storer reported that a new grease trap has been installed and the window well problems have been resolved.

NEXT COUNCIL MEETING: 21 MAY, 2018 7:00 PM

Missions' Committee Updates
